

Stuart Duff

About

Stuart has spent his career consulting with organisations on leadership performance and personal development. His work with senior leadership teams and high-potential leaders from many FTSE 500 companies has given him a commercial, grounded view of what it takes to be a successful leader across different business environments.

With this experience, Stuart offers a practical, pragmatic approach to coaching and, as a chartered psychologist, brings a clear edge to understanding and enhancing performance at work. He draws on a range of coaching tools and techniques, including personality profiling, motivational interviewing, and leadership modelling.

Stuart Duff is a Partner and Head of Development at Pearn Kandola. He began his career at Deloitte in the global consulting business and subsequently has grown the leadership development and talent management business at Pearn Kandola.

He has worked with senior managers and executives on areas such as leadership development, maintaining resilience, developing confidence and personal impact, strategic vision and effective relationships.

Stuart's professional qualifications include:

- BSc (Hons) in Psychology
- MSc in Occupational Psychology
- Chartered Psychologist
- Associate Fellow of the British Psychological Society
- Member of the Chartered Institute for Personnel and Development (CIPD)
- Certificate in Coaching Psychology

Stuart has coached individuals in the following organisations:

